THERAPEUTIC INTERVENTIONS

Recreation therapists use their discipline specific evidenced based treatment modalities to address therapeutic or palliative care needs. Interventions are individualized to meet each Veteran served goals, preferences, and needs. Interventions are holistic and incorporate a Veteran’s function, interests, family, community, and lifestyle. Recreation therapists may co-treat or add their treatment modality to accomplish a particular therapeutic or palliative care goal. Oftentimes, recreation therapists are more successful in treating individuals who resist other treatment approaches or who are unaware of conditions or issues inhibiting their rehabilitation.
